NEW•LAND•MARKS* COMMUNITY EXHIBITION SERIES BEGINS

The Fairmount Park Art Association announces its Community Exhibition Series. A transportable exhibition that documents New•Land•Marks proposals through a series of descriptive photographic banners is traveling throughout Philadelphia to sites in communities participating in New•Land•Marks. A major exhibition of the proposals will open at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in February 2001, accompanied by a publication documenting the proposal development process. The Community Exhibition Series offers the opportunity to preview this material in the community contexts from which the work emerged. A reception and other special events will accompany the Community Exhibition at selected sites. For specific information, please contact the Fairmount Park Art Association. The exhibitions and catalogue are made possible by generous grants from the Philadelphia Exhibitions Initiative, a grant program of The Pew Charitable Trusts, and administered by the University of the Arts, Philadelphia, and the William Penn Foundation.

New•Land•Marks: public art, community, and the meaning of place is a program of the Fairmount Park Art Association that brings together artists and community organizations to plan new works of public art for Philadelphia's neighborhoods. Participating artists and communities have collaborated to develop proposals that incorporate public art into ongoing community development, urban greening, public amenity, and other revitalization initiatives. These efforts celebrate community identity, commemorate "untold" histories, and offer visionary, yet reasonable, ways to invigorate public spaces. As "works in process," the New•Land•Marks proposals represent diverse approaches to public art. The New•Land•Marks program is made possible through the generous support of the William Penn Foundation, the Andy Warhol Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts, Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, the Samuel S. Fels Fund, the Independence Foundation, and the Leeway Foundation.

Chartered in 1872, the Fairmount Park Art Association is the nation's first private non-profit organization integrating public art and urban planning. The Art Association works to promote the appreciation of public art through advocacy efforts and programs that commission, interpret, and preserve art in Philadelphia.
